Shoulder seams and neckline

1. Finish front neckline with binding.
2. Pin bodice front to bodice back right sides together and stitch shoulder seams, aligning edge of front neckline with pattern markings at either side of back neckline.

3. Pin and stitch one edge of binding to neckline and shoulder seamlines, with its right side against right side of neckline; make sure that neckline stays the right length by comparing it with pattern. Trim neckline seam allowances to 7 mm.

4. Understitch seam allowances to binding close to seamline.

5. Fold binding to wrong side of neckline and over shoulder seam allowances, turn seam allowance at its free edge under and stitch turned-under edge to garment close to edge.
